

David C. O’Meara

Adjunct Professor and Curriculum and Exercise Developer
Air Force Negotiation Center (AFNC)

Areas of Expertise:

Air Force Operation, Middle Eastern Issues, Platform Instruction, International Negotiations, Curriculum Development, Negotiation Exercise Development, and Air Force Mediation Processes.

Colonel C. O’Meara retired from the USAF in 2011 after serving as a helicopter evaluator and instructor pilot, weapons officer, staff officer, Chief of Safety, and diplomat as the Defense and Air Attaché to the State of Israel. He commanded the USAF Weapons School 34th Weapons Squadron.

Education and Training

Defense Language Institute Graduate
USAF Air War College by Seminar
USAF Air Command and Staff College
MA in American History, UNLV	1991
BS USAFA	1982

Recent Publications and Noteworthy Contributions

Author, Value Negotiation Elective	2019
Author, Blue Green and Four Way Stop Exercises	2018
Author, Budget Problem Exercise	2017
Co Author, eSchool Negotiation Course	2017
Author, Case Study, The Challenge to Retire the A-10: Case Study	2016
Author, Air Force Legislative Liaison Student Exercise	2016
Author, Author, Case Study, Another Day in the Life of Lt Col Kant	2014
Co Author, Bengalia Student Exercise Update	2014
Author, Gulf States GOPAC Key Leader Engagement Exercises	2012-2019
Author, Iraq Scenario GOPAC Key Leader Engagement Exercise	2012-2018
Author, Afghan Scenario GOPAC Key Leader Engagement Exercise	2012-2018
Country K Air Force Student Exercise	2011-2017
Author, Blackacre Communications Conundrum	2013-2017
Developer and subject matter expert, Air Force Negotiation Center Website	2011-2017
Speaker, multiple presentations on Middle East, River Region venues
Speaker, Negotiation and Alternative Dispute Resolution Course, USAF JAG School

(current as of May 2019)