ACTION REQUIRED: Online Master's Program (OLMP) / Master of Military Operational Art & Science (MMOAS) Concentration Changes

BLUF: To streamline the Master of Military Operational Art and Science (MMOAS) program, also known as the Online Master's Program (OLMP), the Air Force Global College (AFGC) will reduce its four concentrations to one. The Joint Warfare Concentration will remain, while the Leadership, Nuclear Weapons, and Operational Warfare Concentrations will sunset.

New Enrollments: Effective immediately, the Joint Warfare Concentration is the only concentration available for new enrollments. Eligibility requirements remain unchanged.

Current Joint Warfare Concentration Students: No action is required. These students are unaffected, as the Joint Warfare Concentration will continue.

Current Nuclear Weapons & Operational Warfare Concentration Students: Current students enrolled in Nuclear Weapons and Operational Warfare Concentrations may continue their program as normal until completion. Note: These concentrations do not grant IDE/JPME-I credit. In order to obtain IDE/JPME-I credit upon graduation, students must submit a request via the AFGC Help Desk to enroll in the 'ACSC Supplemental Program' as soon as they meet the eligibility requirements.

Current Leadership Concentration Students: You must choose one of the following two pathways:

Option A: Transfer to Joint Warfare Concentration (Recommended)

- Action: You are strongly encouraged to request a transfer to the Joint Warfare Concentration once you meet the eligibility requirements. Please see the AFGC Website MMOAS site for the most accurate Joint Warfare Concentration eligibility requirements.

- Process: Transfers are not automatic. You must initiate this request by submitting a ticket via the AFGC Help Desk.

Option B: Remain in the Leadership Concentration

- Requirement: If you do not meet transfer eligibility—or prefer to remain in your current program—you must complete all coursework before the sunset deadlines listed below.
- Priority Action: You should prioritize completing the four Leadership-specific courses first. You must complete them before they are phased out:

  - EL-5301 Expeditionary Leadership in Intercultural Environments
  - FO-5301 Foundations of Officership
  - OL-5301 Organizational Leadership
  - TL-5301 Team-Building Leadership

Concentration Sunset Timeline

1 July 2026 – No new applications for the Leadership, Nuclear Weapons, & Operational Warfare concentrations.

4 April 2027 – Last day to register for OL-5301 and TL-5301, as they will no longer be offered after the AY27 Summer A Term.

3 May 2027 to 27 Jun 2027 (AY27 Summer A) – This is the last term that OL-5301 and TL-5301 will be offered. Students who do not complete these courses will be automatically disenrolled but may request a transfer to the Joint Warfare Concentration once eligible. (Note: Leadership Concentration specific courses do not provide any transfer credit to the Joint Warfare Concentration, however any core courses will transfer).

30 May 2027 – Last day to register for EL-5301 and FO-5301 as they will no longer be offered after the AY28 Summer B Term.

28 Jun 2027 to 22 Aug 2027 (AY28 Summer B) – This is the absolute final term of the Leadership Concentration. All concentration-specific courses must be completed by 22 August 2027.

Course Availability This Term:

- Offered: Only EL-5301 and FO-5301 are available this term.
- NOT Offered: OL-5301 and TL-5301 are no longer active (these had to be completed in the previous AY27 Summer A term).

Next Steps Based on Your Status:

- If you complete all 4 courses by Aug 22: You may continue on to finish your remaining core courses as normal to graduate.
- If you fail to complete all 4 courses: You will be automatically removed from the Leadership Concentration. You may request a transfer to the Joint Warfare Concentration once you become eligible.

FAQs for Current Students

1. Why are the Leadership, Nuclear Weapons, and Operational Warfare concentrations being sunset?

AFGC continuously evaluates its academic portfolio to ensure limited resources are focused on programs that best support warfighter needs and provide the greatest educational value. The decision to sunset these concentrations is part of that ongoing effort to streamline offerings and prioritize impact.

2. How do I confirm which concentration I am currently enrolled in?

Please login to the AU Portal and locate the program/concentration name at the top of the screen to confirm which concentration you are currently enrolled in.

3. What are the eligibility requirements to enroll in the Joint Warfare Concentration?

Please see the AFGC Website MMOAS site for the most accurate Joint Warfare Concentration eligibility requirements.

4. How do I request to transfer to the Joint Warfare concentration or ACSC-DL?

When eligible, students can request transfers by creating a new case on the AFGC Help Desk. Please ensure you explicitly specify whether you want to transfer to the Joint Warfare Concentration (to remain in the Master's program) or ACSC-DL (if you choose to exit the Master's track and complete basic distance learning only).

What classes will transfer from Sunsetting Concentrations to the Joint Warfare Concentration?

Concentration-specific courses will not transfer to the Joint Warfare Concentration. The core classes that are common throughout all concentrations will transfer to the Joint Warfare Concentration. These courses are:

-OC-5510 Orientation
-LW-5510 Leadership and Warfare
-AP-5510 Airpower Studies
-NS-5510 International Security Studies
-WS-5510 Warfare Studies
-RE-5610 Research Elective I
-RE-5611 Research Elective II
