It is my pleasure to present the Squadron Officer School’s (SOS) Academic Year 2024 Course Syllabus. The intent of this syllabus is to outline the curriculum for your professional military education experience at SOS.

As the primary developmental education program at Air University, the SOS Mission is to develop air and space leaders primed to prevail in competitive environments. We understand the importance of the academic continuum from pre-commissioning sources through general officers and lean on SOS being the critical tactical-to-operational bridge for leadership development. Our goal is for SOS graduates to rejoin the force with an enhanced understanding of institutional competencies, leadership actions, and key elements of reasoning required to fly, fight, and win in the 21st century. It is my hope, and the desire of the academic affairs faculty, to ensure all students attending SOS have a positive and productive learning experience. Your exchange of knowledge and experiences in the flight rooms will generate new networks and strengthen the bonds, friendships, and cooperation among our forces. I look forward to the energy and diverse perspectives that you will bring to our classes. I am confident that you will leave here having developed into better leaders, thinkers, communicators and warfighters. I firmly believe the relationships made at SOS will pay tremendous dividends in the future as we continue to tackle new challenges around the world.

Because coming to SOS often means spending time away from your job at your home station and the people closest to you, getting students to feel that their time spent at PME was worth it is a high hurdle for SOS to cross. The only way for us to do that is for you to participate and engage fully with this course. Your effort and attitude will shape the SOS experience and will be the most important factors in determining how much you and the Department of the Air Force benefit from the time you spend here. You only go through the SOS residence course once, so during this time I encourage you to invest in your teammates, your profession, and yourself to ensure the Department of the Air Force is capable, relevant, and prepared to defend the United States of America. Thank you for your engagement and for your service.
