Joint Warfare Course Description

J-6000 Intro to Joint Warfare

The Joint Warfare Curriculum begins with an introduction to Joint Warfare. This lesson outlines the intent, purpose, and objectives of the curriculum. It also assigns and outlines the Joint Warfare presentation that students give at the end of these lessons.

J-6010 Strategic Competition

This lesson provides students with a baseline understanding of Strategic Competition. The US military is shifting away from the idea of continuous wars against insurgents and instead must focus on competition between great powers, specifically China and Russia. This lesson is meant as an overview that frames the remainder of the Joint Warfare curriculum.

J-6020 Instruments of Power and National Security

In this lesson, students learn the instruments of power (IOP); National Security Strategy (NSS) and the role of the National Security Council (NSC); National Defense Strategy (NDS); role the military plays in supporting all IOPs, especially in context to strategic competition.

J-6100 Intro to Joint Operations/Joint Force Employment

This lesson provides students with an understanding of how the DoD organizes military forces to approach actions as an instrument of power across a full range of military operations, establish unity of command in joint operations globally and within a theater of operations; and demonstrate application of joint force employment within given scenarios/case studies.

J-6110 Joint Planning Process

This lesson will build upon understanding of the Joint Forces Structure and reinforce the Joint Planning Process (JPP) with a focus on Orders Production. This lesson will help lay the foundation necessary to understand roles within the Joint All-Domain Operations Construct and help captains understand how to contextualize what their teams do in support of Operational Priorities.

J-6200 Introduction to Doctrine

In this lesson, student learn the difference between attrition, annihilation, strategies of war and effects-based approach to operations (EBAO); understand what doctrine is, how it is developed, and understand how doctrine can be applied to modern scenarios to provide an effective strategy to engage a competitor or adversary.

J-6200S Spacepower Doctrine Suite (Space Gray Rhinos students)

As part of the United States Space Force (USSF) track within SOS, USSF students split off from their core flights and complete this lesson instead of the Airpower Doctrine Suite lesson. Students will view doctrine from the USSF perspective, looking at how the space domain has evolved, several theories that could guide operations, and doctrine will drive USSF operations. The lesson is in line with the airpower version the USAF students receive.

J-6210 Air Fundamentals:

This purpose of this lesson is for students to understand how airpower doctrine has evolved through time and some of the major theorist involved, establish a fundamental understanding of the major doctrinal concepts of airpower, and understand how airpower fits into joint operations and enables effective operations.

J-6220 Space Fundamentals

This lesson provides students with basic knowledge and foundational tools to understand the space domain and advocate for it in the joint environment. They will look at the basics of the domain, primary capabilities, and threats to our dominance in space.

J-6230 Cyberspace Fundamentals

The purpose of this lesson is to provide students with a basic understanding of the Cyberspace domain and enhance students' ability to advocate for cyberspace across all and mission partners to include joint and interagency.

J-6240 Information Warfare Fundamentals

The purpose of this lesson is for students to gain an understanding of how our principal adversaries and the United States government view information as a crucial component of modern warfare. This lesson is meant to introduce students to IW fundamentals and inspire them to think critically about the information they receive on a daily basis and be conscience about the messages we are sending to the international community.

J-6250 Land and Maritime Fundamentals

The purposes of this lesson are to understand how sister services are organized, establish a fundamental understanding of the major doctrinal concepts of land and sea power, and understand how land and sea power fit into joint operations and enables effective operations.

J-6300 Joint All-Domain Operations

This lesson provides students with an understanding of the DOD's vision for Joint All-Domain Operations (JADO) and the Joint All Domain Command and Control (JADC2) effort to ultimately create an advantage over our adversaries.

J-6310 Nature of Conflict in the 21st Century

This lesson will help students understand what national interests are and attempt to consider national interests from our competitors' perspective. This should help students understand why Russia and China do what they do in order to compete with them more effectively on an international level.

United States Space Force at Squadron Officer School

The welcome meeting for the Space Gray Rhinos is on Day 1, 1500-1600 Central Time. All Guardians must attend.

Space Gray Rhinos Core – All Guardians

All Guardians enrolled in SOS will take part in the core Space Gray Rhinos program. Given the standup of the United States Space Force (USSF), Squadron Officer School (SOS) has created the Space Gray Rhinos track for USSF officers. SOS is a great place for space officers to learn, think, and theorize about challenges in space. The students will not focus on tactical operations. Instead, they will focus on space as it strategically applies across the instrument of power, particularly in this era of Strategic Competition.

The core portion of the Space Gray Rhinos includes space-specific lessons:

- Spacepower Theory
- Spacepower Doctrine
- Space Law
- Principles of Mission Command

Space Gray Rhinos Project – Competitively Selected

As part of the Space Gray Rhinos program, Guardians and Airman will have the opportunity to apply for the capstone project. This portion of the program is about innovating, researching, and proposing a solution to a strategic issue for the Space Force derived from the CSO Planning Guidance. Everyone who is selected will have the opportunity to present their ideas to Space Force senior leaders and will receive an additional bullet on their training report annotating that they worked on a strategic issue in support of our service.

More information will be given at the welcome meeting for the Space Gray Rhinos on Day 1.

Semper Supra!

Squadron Officer School Electives

As an SOS student you will participate in one of three types of electives during the five-week course.

- Blocked/ Series electives
- Think Tank
- Air University Advance Research (AUAR) elective

SOS Electives

SOS electives are sessions taught by SOS faculty on a variety of subject. Upon the start of SOS, students will have the opportunity to select from a list of electives they would like to participate in during the five-week course.

Space Gray Rhinos Project

As mentioned above, this project is competitively selected for USSF personnel.

Think Tank

Think Tank is an opportunity for a select group of students to tackle a major issue and present creative solutions to senior leaders. It is physically, mentally, and emotionally challenging and students are expected to work well beyond the SOS curriculum. The rewards for both the students and the USAF, however, can be enormous. Team members receive intensive coaching on design principles adapted from the best practices in industry, academia, and militaries from across the world. What you will learn and practice are directly applicable to the strategic thinking skills that are highly valuable to leaders at all levels. In the past, this approach has generated innovative ideas at all levels of the Air Force.

Air University Advance Research (AUAR)

The Air University (AU) Advanced Research Elective is an opportunity for a selective group of students to conduct independent research on topics of strategic concern. This is a five-week elective requiring approximately 20-40 hours beyond SOS curriculum. Selected students are assigned mentor(s) who guide research efforts and define deliverables. Student researchers receive a bullet on their AF 475 Training Report. Student benefits include advanced study on exciting topics, networking with communities of interest throughout the research experience, and opportunity to shape the Air Force's and Space Force's future.

Current AUAR Topics

AF IT User Experience (UX) Optimization: students will have the opportunity to dive into a practical project of improving commonly used Air Force systems/applications. Students will solicit feedback and ideas from a user experience (UX) and functional perspective on what optimizations can be incorporated into improving usability.

AF Maker: Get your creative thinking cap on and help make progress on a current, relevant Air Force problem. Innovate to find solution(s). Investigate applications for additive manufacturing of rapid prototypes and potentially deployable solutions for various AF customer challenges.

Artificial Intelligence: students will apply experience and critical thinking skills to research problems submitted by subject matter experts across the AF and Joint community. Advisors will be available to guide the student's efforts on the topic of their choice.

Barrier Analysis Working Group Collaborative: students will leverage their experiences and expertise to help drive positive change across the Air Force through research aligned with current Lines of Effort provided by the BAWG Teams.

Ideas and Weapons: Building the Future Air Force: This research elective considers three questions. How should the Air Force best use its tools? How do organizations need to change to leverage new technologies? What gaps and seams exist that the service needs to address?

Mobility Air Forces Sustainment & Operation in Contested Environments: students will apply their experience and critical thinking skills to develop research-based solutions for the problems encountered in sustaining and operating mobility air forces in contested environments.

Next-Generation Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance Dominance: students will apply experience and critical thinking skills to research specific problems submitted by senior leaders and subject matter experts across the USAF ISR enterprise.
