The Way Ahead for 2020

2019 was a great year for the TLC! The outlook for 2020 is even better. Please be sure to consider the TLC during the next year and how we can support your school, program, faculty or students. Look to us for faculty development, technology training and research, Canvas support and writing tutoring. Be sure to let us know if there is another area(s) where you or your program could use additional support with teaching and learning.

Faculty Support

Faculty Essentials Course – Hiring for our team to develop and instruct the Faculty Essentials Course is now complete. We are making great strides with the course and plan to start teaching lessons here at the TLC on the foundations of faculty development in March.

Learning Technology

TLC's Canvas Assistance & Support Team (CAST) is again manned to provide both expertise and hands-on assistance with Canvas. If you or your team or program need help with the features or functions in Canvas, please contact the CAST team via AUCanvasAssist@us.af.mil or leave a message with Ken at 953-5231.

Student Learning

Writing Commons – Volunteer faculty tutors are needed! We expect to serve even more students through the writing Commons during 2020. If you are interested in spending an hour or more each week increasing your scholarship by helping our students to write better then please contact Mr. Michael Labosky at 953-5233.
